

Leanne Larosa

Leanne was admitted to practice in 1999. As a solicitor, she worked in personal injury litigation in roles representing both plaintiffs and defendants for over 15 years. Leanne was called to the Bar in 2018 and practises primarily in personal injury litigation involving medical negligence, motor vehicle accidents, public liability, intentional torts, worker's compensation and institutional child abuse. She is also an Adjunct Lecturer with the College of Law.